Six of the leading Penians were no Saturday

brought up before the Police Commissioner is Dublin. Mr. Barry, Q.C., opened the case for the Grown, and charged the prisoners not only with treason, but with intending to massacre the aristooracy and redistribute property. In support of the latter charge he produced a variety of documents; un l'among them two extraordinary letters. One, signed J. O'Doherty (Major), was addressed to Mr. O'Leary, one of the accused, and recommended "the forming of all crops growing, and Yard, containing Five Ben Books, Directed AND the houghing of all the cattle on the lands " from which tenants may have been evicted. This letter was dated October, 1863, but was found in O heary's postession. The other was addressed by C M. O'Keeffe, a man of some literary pretensions, and one of the accessed, to Mr. Luby, another of the prisoners, and recommended in very well-writteh words that the uristocracy of Ireland should be first written down and then killed by the people, after the French example. The news from New Zealand shows that the colonial forces are already doing more without the military than the military have for a long time dine. General Cameron, as we mentioned last week had resigned. Five regiments were to return ammediately. An attack by the natives on the colonial troops had been repulsed with heavy 1588. A pah and 57 prisoners had been taken by these colonial troops, and their success has appnrently had a considerable influence in supporting the Ministerial policy, for the address of Mr. Wold and his Ministers had been carried in the Lower House without a division and in the Upper by 18 to 2. The troops and General Cameron will prohably prove to have been a mere delay to the settlement of this wearing quarrel.

The defeat of the Paraguayans on the 17th August appears to have been a real but not a creditable one. Flores, General of the Argentine forces, was, when he met the enemy at Zatay, i command of 9,000 men, with 40 pieces of rifle cannon. The Paraguayans were only 3,000, and when broken by the first attack were pursued by 4,000 cavalry, and slaughtered remorselessly 1,700 falling on the field. Flores in his despatch affirms that they would be killed, that "no human power could make them surrender, " and then in the same despatch announces that he has taken, 1,700 prisoners. The battle evidently was massacre, for which the Paraguayans will figh the harder. On the other hand the Benzilian fleet, which was to have attacked the Paraguayan for Humaits, has retreated down the river, losing two of its steamers and many men en route from the fire of the Paraguayan batteries. The turning ners of Ice House Street and Duddell Street, point of the war will probably be the attack which The Floors comprise. Nine Rooms and fo guayans on the other side of the Uraguay. The latest device for killing people seems a very successeful one. On Wednesday Mr. Beardslee, maker of torpedoes for the American Government, made some experiments before the first Lord of the Admiralty. After blowing a great deal of water into the air very successfully, Mr. Beardslee at-tacked the Trepsichare, an old 18-gun ship which Detached residence with the adjacent has never been pur in commission. Two 75-pound shells were placed at a depth of about 7 feet under her, and fired from the shore by electricity. There Sinkersh & Co. was a fond explosion "as if every ounce of iron on buard felt the death agony," and then the ship settled forward by the head. Her back seems to have been broken and had she been in deep water with a crew on beard, the destruction must have been complete. It would seem as if these submerged shells might rander barbours impregnable. but for the difficult of calculating the exact mo- use of the Wharf now completed, where vessels toth of December next ment at which to explode them.
